Dear Homoeopaths

Welcome to the land of beaches, fun and frolic!

The Homoeopathic Medical Association of India (Goa State Branch) is proud to be the organizer of the 20th All India Homoeopathic Scientific Seminar to be held on 9th & 10th September 2017. We are planning this mega event on a grand scale and we hope to leave a lasting impression on the mind of every delegate attending this mega event.

HMAI, the largest National Organization of Homeopaths, was formed in 1975 and is now 42 years old. Since its inception, HMAI is working for the progress of homeopathic science and research, public health initiatives and gaining appreciation and support from the entire fraternity.

To achieve the objective of scaling new heights for our system, HMAI is providing a common platform for homeopathic clinicians, researchers, pharmaceuticals and students for discussion on various issues in connection with homeopathic practice, research and education.

ABOUT GOA:

Goa is a state on the Konkan coast in western India. It is bound by Maharashtra to the north and Karnataka to the east and south, with the Arabian Sea forming its western coast. It is India's smallest state by area and the fourth smallest by population. It was ranked the best placed state for its infrastructure and ranked on top for the best quality of life in India.

Panaji is the state's capital and the historic city of Margao is its commercial capital... Goa was a former Portuguese province and Portuguese rule existed for about 450 years till 1961

Goa is visited by large numbers of international and domestic tourists each year for its beaches, places of worship and world heritage architecture. It has rich flora and fauna, owing to its location on the Western Ghats range, a biodiversity hotspot.

Famous Beaches in Goa

Goa is famous all over the world for its world class beaches. Its coastline of 101kms is lined by white sand beaches and natural formations which will mesmerize you. Here is a list of some famous beaches for you to visit is the most famous beach of Goa, known for its stunning nightlife, beach parties, and mouth-watering seafood delicacies.

Baga Beach

Palolem Beach

A scenic beach in south Goa, with scenic rocks and islands off its shores. Good eating options. Watersports activity can be enjoyed at its best on this beach.

Benaulim Beach

Is the beach to be, when you just want to relax. One can just laze the day off soaking in the sun, It gives you the pleasure and satisfaction of being in Goa. It is a famous beach for fishing. A candle light dinner amidst the setting is an excellent add-on to the perfect vacation.

Colva Beach

Colva is a beach located in south goa just 8 km away from the seminar venue . And it is the closest beach to Margao. The beach is a white sand beach stretching across 20km towards south of Goa. It has lots of beachside restaurants and a market to buy souvenirs.

Calangute Beach

Calangute is one of the most popular tourist destinations in Goa. It is often referred as 'Queen of the Beaches' and largest among north goa beaches. It has lots of people all around the year and is known for its watersports and easy connectivity.

TOURIST DESTINATIONS

Basilica de Bom Jesus

This UNESCO World Heritage Site is a church, which is situated in Old Goa, and is an excellent example of Baroque architecture. Basilica of Bom Jesus was constructed in the year 1605 and is one of the most important destinations for Christian pilgrims from all over the world. One of the most important attractions here are the mortal remains of the missionary Saint Francis Xavier.

Fort Aguada

A well-preserved 17 century Portuguese fort, Fort Aguada is located on the Sinquerim Beach in North Goa. Built as the chief defence of Portuguese against the Dutch and Marathas, it was the most prized and crucial fort of the Portuguese. Some buildings of the fort are still in good shape having been converted into a jail and interestingly, it happens to be the largest jail in Goa.

Chapora Fort: Discover Bollywood's favourite fort

Popular as the place where the Bollywood flick "Dil Chahta Hai" was picturised, the Chapora fort stands at the mouth of the Chapora river as an old guard. Today this laterite fort is almost in ruins but does offer some sensational views of the coastline from the top of the fort. That itself is reason enough for any photo enthusiasts.

Dudhsagar Falls:

Literally meaning a sea of milk, Dudhsagar Falls is a 4 tiered waterfall located and the 4th tallest waterfall of India. Located at a distance of 46km from Madgaon, the falls appear spectacular during monsoons after been fed by the rains. There is a railway bridge which passes right in front of the waterfall and passenger train passing through the fall tend to always slow down for passengers to view the fall up close. It was highlighted in the movie Chennai Express.

Naval Aviation Museum

Unknown to many, the Naval Aviation Museum is the only one of its kind in the whole of Asia. It has an outdoor and an indoor section and exhibits range from 7 different type of aircrafts, rockets, bombs, armaments, protective gears, parachutes, pilot's outfits etc. Definitely a must visit on your next Goa tour, especially for those keen on life about the defence forces.

The Church Of Our Lady Of Immaculate Conception

One of the most famous landmarks of Goa, Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception Church in Panjim was built by the Portuguese in 1541 as a chapel. A fine example of Baroque architecture combined with Indian sensibilities. The location of the church in Panaji, makes it even more beautiful and stunning as it is surrounded by the municipal gardens. It was built for the sailors who disembarked here, after a long sail from Lisbon, Portugal as it was the first port before going inland into older Goa.

Mangeshi Temple

Goa may have a long Portuguese history and quite a few famous churches, yet it is also home to beautiful temples as well. Ponda region in Goa is famous for the 450-year-old Shri Mangesh temple dedicated to Shiva. The highlights of the temple are the seven-story lamp tower (deepstambha), a magnificent water tank, believed to be the oldest part of the temple and there is a prominent Nandi Bull as well inside the temple. Located on a small hillock, it is also one of the largest temples in Goa.

Fontainhas

Fontainhas, the old Latin Quarter of Goa seems to belong to another part of the world, maybe Europe but certainly not India. The narrow winding street flanked by brightly coloured houses with projecting balconies and red tiled roofs makes for a very picturesque sight. Even the beautiful number plates of the houses are like works of art. It gives a very Mediterranean look and feel to the entire place.

Located at the foothills, with the Altinho hills on the west and the Ourem creek on the East, it derived its name from 'Fonte Phoenix' (Fountain of Phoenix)', which was essentially a water reservoir constructed during the Portuguese rule. The Fountain of Phoenix can still be seen on the way to the Maruti Temple in the Mala area.

One of the most famous and striking monuments in Goa, Dona Paula is a monument that has been erected to honour the great baroness Paula Amaral Antonio de Souto Maior, who was the daughter of the Portuguese Viceroy. As she arrived with her family to Goa, she made various changes and charities that brought about reforms in the town. The memorial was erected in her memory. The statue has various legends attached to it, while some say it represents young and old Mother India, the others say that it was a statue sculpted by Dona Paula herself.

The area is now amongst the most affluent in Goa and is truly charming and pleasant. The monument overlooks the sea, which makes up for its perfect location

Dona Paula

How to Reach Goa

Goa is easily accessible from all metros and major cities by flight, train and by road as well.

By Air: The international airport is at Dabolim, at a distance of 24 kms from the seminar venue. It is connected to major airports like Mumbai, Delhi & Kolkatta

By Road: Goa has the following National Highways passing through it.

NH-66 (ex NH-17) runs along India's west coast and links Goa to Mumbai in the north and Mangalore to the south. NH-4A running across the state connects the capital Panaji to Belgaum in east, linking Goa to cities in the Deccan.

Railways: Goa has two rail lines – one run by the South Western Railway and the other by the Konkan Railway. The line run by the South Western Railway links the port town of Vasco da Gama, Goa with Belgaum, Hubli, Karnataka via Margao. The Konkan Railway line, runs parallel to the coast connecting major cities on the western coast. The main railway station in Goa is Margao which is 6 kms from the seminar venue.

Local Transport

Buses connect all the major areas in Goa. Hired forms of transport include unmetered taxis and, in urban areas, auto rickshaws. You need to decide the fare before you get in the vehicle! Another form of transportation in Goa is the motorcycle taxi, operated by drivers who are locally called "pilots". These vehicles transport a single pillion rider, at fares that are usually negotiated. Other than buses, "pilots" tend to be the cheapest mode of transport. You can also hire a two wheeler in Goa. This becomes very convenient to get around and is easy on the pocket.

Hotel Accomodation

Hotel rooms within 3 kms radius of the venue are available in different ranges from Rs 1000 to Rs 10,000 double bed per night.

Dormitory accommodation information can also be provided upon request.
